INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL SAFETY: INVENTORY & RISK MANAGEMENT

There is the growing need for organizations using chemicals in Laboratories and Operations to deploy efficient processes and systems that enable laboratory and Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS) personnel to easily comply with the regulations, ensure safe chemical management and produce accurate chemical inventory reports. This system for managing information about the chemical safety and inventory data should be established and maintained. It is the backbone of modern industrial chemical safety practice.

This workshop will explore chemical usage in the workplace, their possible consequences on both personnel and facilities and how to safely store, use and dispose them in accordance with regulations, standards and established best practices.
